Report Is Signed, Absolves Roosevelt And Cordell Hull

Ferguson and Brewster Decline Signatures on Pearl Harbor Case; Blames Officers

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Eight of the ten Pearl Harbor committee members were reported today to have signed a report absolving President Roosevelt and Cordell Hull of any direct responsibility for the surprise 1941 attack. Republican Senators Brewster and Maine and Ferguson of Michigan declined to sign, it was learned.

However, their party colleagues representing the House on the Joint Congressional Committee—Reps. Keefe of Wisconsin and Gearhart of California—were said to have gone along with the six Democratic members.

The 112,000-word majority report, due to be released formally after this week, reportedly places the blame for American failure to anticipate the attack on both Washington military officials and the commanders at Pearl Harbor.

The committee was said to have made 25 recommendations for administrative changes in Army and Navy procedure as a result of disclosures in connection with the attack.

Members who have been working on the report for several weeks said there was little question in their minds that they had arrived at a bipartisan analysis of the facts in connection with the surprise attack. As proof of this, Democrats on the committee cited the decision of Keefe and Gearhart to sign the report.

One Democratic member, who was not to be quoted by name, said that while Keefe and Gearhart did not agree with some of the details of the findings they were willing to acquiesce in the overall decisions and recommendations.

Negro Is Killed Shooting Follows Attack Upon Patrolman in Harlem Grill

New York, July 16 (AP)—Patrolman V. Reilly shot and killed a 29-year-old negro in a Harlem bar and grill early today, after the man struck the officer with his own nightstick.

The man was identified by a woman as Norman Reid. A woman who said she saw the shooting, said that while Reilly was attempting to arrest Reid, Reid wrestled him and struck him on the head, knocking him down. The patrolman then fired at Reid, hitting him in the air and two at

Hog Prices Continue Boost at Chicago

Chicago, July 16 (AP)—Hog prices continued their upward flight today, early sales quickly hitting $20.00 a hundred pounds, $1.00 higher than yesterday on the best pork animals.

Ten days ago the top price was $18.25 and under O.P.A. price controls, the ceiling was $14.85. In 1919, the all-time high was set at $23.60. The all-time low came in 1932 at $1.65 a hundred pounds.

Hog receipts were running somewhat lower than a week ago, which accounted for much of the price rise. Twelve leading western markets totaled 82,500 today, 95,800 yesterday, 93,864 a week ago, and 42,261 a year ago.

Ferry Service Is Now 'Big Business'

Total of 13,371 Vehicles Has Used Craft Since May 16

Ferry traffic across the Hudson river between Kingston and Rhinecliff continues to hold up well, according to figures released today by the New York State Bridge Authority that show that from May 16, when the ferry began operating, up to and including Monday, July 15, there had been a total of 13,371 vehicles and 14,152 pedestrians ferried across the river.

The figures released show that from May 16 to June 30, inclusive, the total number of vehicles was 9,042, while the pedestrians numbered 10,285.

July's Traffic
The figures for July up to and including yesterday, show 4,329 vehicles and 3,867 pedestrians carried across the river on the ferry. Traffic figures for this month indicate that the ferry will do the largest business for any month since it began operating in May. From July 1 to 4, inclusive there were 1,137 vehicles and 1,196 pedestrians ferried across the river. The largest number of vehicles is carried Sundays, according to the Bridge Authority count. On Sunday, July 7, there were 404 vehicles and 461 pedestrians, while on Sunday, July 14, there were 413 vehicles and 370 pedestrians.

Proposals Are Made

Vienna, July 16 (AP)—American military transportation officers have made proposals to Soviet officials for the resumption of navigation over the whole course of the Danube river as soon as obstructions are removed, U. S. headquarters announced today.

The proposals, made in writing last May 16, have not been answered by the Russians, the announcement said. Details were not disclosed.

43 Germans to Die

Dachau, Germany, July 16 (AP)—An American Military Court sentenced 43 German soldiers to death today for the slaughter of 900 American soldiers and Belgian civilians during the winter battle of the Ardennes bulge.

Hotel Corporation Signs With Local, First in Kingston

Contract Is Signed Today at Governor Clinton; Has Retroactive Pay Provision

Representatives of the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation and Hotel Employees Union, Local 666, A.F.L. today signed a union contract affecting employees of the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The historic document—uniting local hotel employees for the first time in the city's history—was signed in the Blue Room of the hotel at 11:10 o'clock.

Signed by Arthur H. Wicks, president of the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation, and George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent of Local 666, the contract is retroactive to June 3, 1946 and represents an annual payroll increase of approximately $26,000. The overall individual hike is about 25 per cent.

Provides Vacations
The contract provides for, among other things, vacations up to two weeks based on seniority and time and a half pay for work after hours. The normal working day is eight hours for female and nine hours for male employees. Split shifts will be abolished wherever possible.

Members of Local 666 met last night and unanimously authorized Mr. Yerry and Mr. Dugan to sign the contract.

"I trust this is the beginning of better relations between the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation and its employees," Senator Wicks said in signing the contract.

"I am happy to sign this agreement and consider it a special privilege," the Senator continued. "This makes the partnership more binding. We can't continue without the cooperation of the employees and we will both benefit by the agreement."

Senator Wicks added that the agreement would insure better cooperation between management and labor and would guarantee the present high standard of service at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Yerry Thanks Corporation

Speaking for labor, George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent, said he was happy to sign the historic document and he expressed his thanks to Senator Wicks and the Governor Clinton directors for the successful negotiation of the contract.

Claiming a long organizational drive to unionize the city food handlers, the contract signed today represents a milestone in local labor history. Union officials regarded it as the springboard for further organizational drives in the city and county.

Army Frees 3 Russians In Berlin

Harrisons Are Released by Russians Prior to U. S. Action in Berlin

Two Others Held Americans Ask Two U. S. Officers Be Given Release

Berlin, July 16 (AP)—Less than 12 hours after the Russians had released two Americans whom they had held incommunicado in the Soviet zone of Berlin for 15 days, U. S. Army headquarters announced today it was freeing three Russians held on suspicion of espionage.

The two Americans, Warrant Officer Samuel L. Harrison and his petite, brunette wife, Helen, were handed over unharmed to Maj. Gen. Frank A. Keating, U. S. Berlin commander, at Russian headquarters here at 1:45 A. M.

Keating announced later that strenuous efforts were being made to effect the release of two other American officers, apparently held incommunicado by the Russians for almost two weeks.

A statement by Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Sibert, chief of the headquarters intelligence division, said the three Russians had been held for two weeks in the U. S. sector of Berlin.

Sibert said the three were wearing civilian clothes when arrested, and had entered the U. S. zone apparently for "clandestine operations." Two of the Russians claimed to be officers, Sibert said.

He added that the arrests "in no wise violated any written, oral or implied quadripartite agreement in the city of Berlin" and that "our policy in the future must be the same or more severe, depending on the circumstances."

The Russians are "being turned back" to the Soviet zone at the request of Russian authorities, who

President Truman Honors 22 Naval Heroes at White House

Washington, July 16 (AP)—President Truman summoned 22 naval heroes to the White House today for a ceremony honoring eight battle-tested aircraft carriers and the sailors who manned them.

Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, now commander of the Eighth Fleet, was chosen to receive presidential citations on behalf of the ships.

He came as war-time commander of the historic Task Force 58, which helped annihilate Japanese naval power in the crucial days of the Pacific war.

In the place of his fighting comrade, the late Vice Adm. John S. McCain, who led the assaults of Task Force 38, was the latter's son.

Mr. Truman picked the south grounds of the White House for the ceremony (at 12:30 p. m. E.S.T.) in which ships, as well as men, were to receive the homage of a grateful nation.

"For extraordinary heroism in action against enemy Japanese forces in the air, ashore and afloat," they differed only as to detail.

For the Bellau Wood, it was for heroism in the Pacific area from September 18, 1943 to August 15, 1945, for the Cabot, from January

Buyers' Demonstrations Called; Begun by 800,000 Auto Workers

Three Nations May Hold Conference On Red Spy Actions

Canadians Say Russians Might Still Be Working in Canada; Samples Flown to Moscow

Ottawa, July 16 (AP)—Indications that the three nations which hold the atom bomb secret may confer on Russian spy activities were seen today following publication of an official Canadian report that Soviet agents, who "may still" be operating in Canada, had flown samples of uranium 235 to Russia.

The report, issued by a royal commission composed of two of Canada's seven supreme court justices, asserted that many top secret military developments already had been compromised because of Russian spies, and that Moscow was seeking information on post-war defenses of the three countries—the United States, Britain and Canada.

After repeating previous charges that the Soviet spy operations had ramifications in the United States and Britain, the commission recommended that Canada consider whether to communicate her findings "to the proper authorities in the United Kingdom and the United States."

The 25,000-word report said that Dr. Alan Nunn May, the British scientist who worked on atomic research in Montreal, had given samples of uranium 235 enriched and uranium 233, essential elements in the manufacture of atom bombs, to a Lt. Angelov, assistant military attaché in the Russian embassy in Ottawa. The materials then were flown to Moscow by a Lt. Col. Motinov, the commission asserted.

May was sentenced by a British court last spring to 10 years in prison.

"Information of the greatest importance" on radar was obtained by Russian spies, the report said. Also compromised were a wiring diagram on a new type of fuse, information on a submarine detection device and secret data "of great value" on propellants and explosives, the report added.

Says Russians Balked

The commission said the Russians had been largely balked, however, in their efforts to ferret out details of atomic secrets.

The report summarized four months of work in which 115 witnesses were heard and 6,000 pages of evidence taken. In addition to reviewing previously published accusations, it made these new charges:

That the Russians sought and obtained "top secret" political information on the policies of the American, British and Canadian governments. The nature of these secrets was not disclosed.

That Moscow was after information "related to research developments which would play an important part in the post-war development of atomic energy."

Most Industrial Plants in Detroit Face Shutdown During Two-Hour Meetings; Other Communities Will Follow

(By The Associated Press)

Labor, veterans and civic groups across the nation were summoned today for demonstrations to protest the end of O.P.A. as the movement grew for buyers strikes against rising living costs.

In the first country-wide anti-inflation action since the O.P.A. expired July 1, the C.I.O. United Auto Workers Union called its 800,000 members off their jobs for two-hour meetings which President Walter Reuther declared "will herald a buyers strike such as this country has never known."

Many communities scheduled demonstrations later this week or next, while citizens committees and consumers councils in several cities scheduled one-day buyers strikes as a protest against the death of O.P.A.

In Detroit, citadel of the U.A.W.-C.I.O., most industrial plants faced a shutdown with U.A.W. officials estimating 250,000 C.I.O. members would attend today's protest meeting.

The union said nine-tenths of organized auto workers would leave their jobs, leaving only maintenance crews to man the plants.

A charge that the demonstration "is just a publicity buildup for the union boys" came from Charles E. Boyd, secretary of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association.

"They might better stay on the job and help increase production," he said in a statement, "rather than take time off."

Chicago U.A.W. officials said 30,000 workers were expected to leave 60 plants today for a meeting at the 5,000-capacity Ashland Auditorium. Amplifiers were set up to carry the program to those outside and 50,000 postcards were addressed to President Truman for distribution, asking a veto of the senate-passed O.P.A. measure.

Similar rallies were called at Cleveland, where between 35,000 and 45,000 C.I.O. members were

Heirens Is Called To Be Arraigned On 29 Indictments

Chicago, July 16 (AP)—William Heirens, who was quoted by Warden Frank Sain of the Cook county jail as saying he had not "confessed" the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan and the slaying of a former Wave, was summoned today to criminal court today for arraignment on 29 indictments charging him with 24 burglaries and five assaults.

Sain said last night that the 17-year-old University of Chicago student, who has been questioned in connection with the Degnan crime and the slaying of Frances Brown, the former Wave, summoned him to his jail cell after he had heard a news broadcast.

The warden said Heirens told him that he had heard of the radio that "I've confessed," and Sain said, they had the following conversation:

Heirens: "Who did I confess to?"

Sain: "You didn't confess to me."

Heirens: "Well, I didn't confess to nobody."

Sain: "Did you tell anyone who did it?"

Heirens: "No."

(The warden said "so far as I know" the radio in the jail was tuned to Station WGN. A spokesman for WGN said its 5 p. m. newscast quoted from a United Press story regarding Heirens. The youth did not say what broadcast he had heard.)

Tribune Quotes 'Source'

(The Chicago Tribune, in a copyright story, said it had learned "from unimpeachable sources" that "Heirens has told" of going to the Degnan home and kidnapping the six-year-old girl from her bed.)

(The Tribune story said he entered the girl's bedroom window by a ladder he found in the yard of a nearby house, gazed at the victim with a handkerchief and strangled her with his hands when she awakened.)

(He carried her into the basement of another building, the Tribune story added, and worked until nearly daylight cutting up her body. Then he placed the pieces of her body in sewers in the neighborhood, believing they would be washed away, the Tribune said.)

(After disposing of the body, Continued on Page Five

Clarifies Some Items Of Big Four

Blame Is Pinned Upon Russia Regarding Failure to Arrive at Austrian Treaty

Success Is Listed

Ledger Has Bright Side, He Says; 'On Road to Peace'

Washington, July 16 (AP)—The United States risked an open split with Russia today in an attempt to force economic unification of Germany.

Secretary of State Byrnes declared last night that orders giving Russia a choice between cooperation or "economic paralysis" in Germany will go forward "this week" to Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, American military commander at Frankfurt.

The orders will be to cooperate with any or all of the other occupying powers—Britain, France and Russia—on finance, transportation, communication, trade and industry.

In a radio report to the American people on successes and failures of the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers at Paris, Byrnes asserted:

"We will either secure economic cooperation between the zones or place the responsibility for the violation of the Potsdam agreement."

President Truman listened in and telephoned congratulations to the secretary immediately after the broadcast.

Russia declined at the Paris meeting to go along on either economic measures, guarantees for keeping Germany disarmed for a quarter of a century, or the writing of a peace treaty for Austria.

On those points, Byrnes observed, the conference "made no progress at all." He pinned the blame squarely on Russia.

"I do not believe," he declared, "that the Soviets realize the doubts and suspicions which they have raised in the minds of those in other countries who want to be their friends by the aloofness, coolness and hostility with which they have received America's offer to guarantee, month by month, the continued disarmament of Germany."

Recounts Successes

But on the success side of the ledger Byrnes listed the calling of a peace conference for July 20 to consider treaties, drafted in tentative form at the Paris council, for Italy and the former Axis satellites.

Prospects are bright, he said, for treaties that will let the people of five occupied states "live and breathe as free people." He added: "We are on the road back to peace."

But the four powers had a "great struggle and tremendous amount of bargaining" in view as much as they did on peace treaties, the secretary said. And he presented a grim picture of the tugging and hauling that went on over Germany and Austria.

Leading up to his disclosure of the orders being drafted for McNarney, Byrnes said it was "no secret" that four-power control of Germany on a zone basis is "not working well."

Under the Potsdam pact, he said, Germany was to be administered as an economic unit. Instead, he added, she is being run in "four close compartments."

Cold Sets Record Northwestern Air Currents Chill State: 33 Is Adirondack Reading

Albany, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—A cold air mass, moving eastward from Northwest Canada, chilled New York state early today, pushing temperatures to all-time lows for the date.

Schenectady and Binghamton in the Adirondacks saw a 33 degrees above, while Albany and Syracuse recorded lows of 44 and 45 respectively. Binghamton 46 was one below the record set in 1932. In New York city the overnight low was 61.

However, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted the state in general would warm up by tomorrow afternoon, after moderately cool temperatures tonight.

Wheeler's Manager Predicts Victory By Small Margin

(By The Associated Press)

A ding-dong ballot battle was underway in Montana today with Senator Burton K. Wheeler's campaign manager predicting he would win Democratic renomination by a close margin.

Primary elections also were being settled today in Wyoming, Arizona and Arkansas. Georgians vote tomorrow in a boiling contest marked by a "white supremacy" cry.

President Truman wrote Wheeler a letter which he said "he hoped would stop the smear campaign against Burt Wheeler." The senator's opponent is Lail Erickson, former Montana supreme court justice, who drew the support of James Roosevelt, son of the late President.

With a moderately heavy vote of about 125,000 forecast, Wheeler's campaign chairman, Bailey Stortz, predicted victory by about 15,000 votes.

"An Erickson victory by 20,000 votes" was the forecast from Erickson's camp.

A special Senate committee is investigating campaign expenditures as a result of Wheeler's protest that "unfair propaganda, financed by New York and Hollywood money" had been injected into the contest.

Other issues revolved largely around international affairs and the railroad strike, with Erickson contending the four-term senator had tried "to put shackles of slavery on labor."

Meader Says Rent Gain Tendency Shows

New York, July 16 (AP)—James L. Meader, former regional O.P.A. administrator, says that while the rent line is being held in New York city, elsewhere through the state "there is a definite movement towards rent increases, disregard of rent reductions previously made by O.P.A. and reduced housing services" despite state rent control.

He declared in a statement yesterday that throughout the five-state region 11 of the O.P.A. there was "a general tendency to increase rents and evictions" and cited the following figures on cases of attempted rent increases reported in New York state:

Westchester county, 101; Poughkeepsie, 8; Utica, 25; Watertown, one; Binghamton, seven; Elmira, six; Syracuse, 26; Jamestown, 20; Rochester, 60; Mineola, 40.

John J. Scofield, rent executive for the regional O.P.A., also said that the number of rent boosts reported in the region since July 1 had shown "a very substantial increase" as compared with comparable periods when the O.P.A. was in control.

But Joseph D. McGoldrick, New York state rental commissioner who took over the state control program when the O.P.A. expired, said that the attempts of "some uninformed persons to take advantage of the rent situation" has been nipped in the bud.

Times Says Proposal Suggests U. N. Stay Put

New York, July 16 (AP)—The New York Times says that a special committee named by Mayor William O'Dwyer will submit a proposal to the United Nations that it remain permanently at Flushing Meadow Park in Queens. The site was selected earlier this year as the interim home of the U.N.'s general assembly.

The Times says the plan would house both the Security Council and the General Assembly at the park site. The Security Council has leased the Sperry Gyroscope plant at Lake Success in Nassau county as its interim headquarters.

Meanwhile, Westchester county authorities plan to meet with the headquarters commission of the United Nations at White Plains, N. Y., Friday to discuss problems arising out of the possible location of the United Nations in that county.

Tokyo, July 16 (AP)—Fire that started in an inn destroyed 400 dwellings today at Iida, in Nagano Prefecture, Kyodo News Agency reported.

Prevention Education Urged by Association

Rochester, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—Police and reformatories should undertake education in "prevention" rather than in "cure" of juvenile delinquency, says the president of the International Association for Identification.

Addressing the group's 31st annual conference yesterday, L. Clark Schilder, who also is warden of the Federal Penitentiary at El Reno, Okla., attributed part of the responsibility for juvenile delinquency to "too much tolerance and even approval of the lascivious, indecent, lewd and criminal in movies, radio, books and magazines."

About 400 police officials from the United States, Cuba and Hawaii are attending the four-day convention.

"We spend so very much on our natural resources and waterways and dams and power and disregard too much our most priceless natural asset—the power of our youth," Schilder said.

"That power . . . must be conserved all the more in the coming decades and centuries when, with the exhaustion of other resources, we approach nearer to a 'have not' than a 'have' nation," he added.

Nine Men Executed

Warsaw, July 16 (AP)—Nine men were executed by a firing squad yesterday for setting off a July 4 pogrom in Kielce which cost the lives of 41 persons. Three other defendants, convicted with the nine last Thursday, received prison terms.

City Has Taste Of Fall Weather

Temperatures of Monday Range From 55 to 73

Chilly temperatures enveloped Kingston yesterday and this morning, following the humid heat wave that has gripped the city for several days. Temperatures Monday ranged from a low of 55 degrees to a high of 73 degrees in the afternoon, as compared with a reading of 93 degrees Sunday.

The lowest temperature recorded last night by the official city thermometer was 53 degrees. The change in temperature in the city followed the rain and wind storm that broke early Monday morning.

The total rainfall so far this month has been .78 of an inch according to the records in the city engineer's office.

Hughes Continues to Gain

Search for Plane Will Go On 2 Days

In the intensive week-end hunt and search of the scope of the search would be extended farther east and north.

So exhaustive has been the quest, Capt. Coker said, that the wreckage of four previous crack-ups have been uncovered in the Stewart Field area. One which occurred in 1943 had been completely forgotten by airport officials, he said.

Radio stations throughout the region have been alerted by Stewart Field to relay all tips and rumors to the Army officials.

Capt. Coker said the Stewart Field public relations office had been swamped with tips and that all were being traced for what they might be worth.

Search Is Difficult

Due to the dense foliage draping the Catskills and Shawangunks at this time of the season, the search figures to be exceedingly difficult.

Stewart Field officials said that if aerial observation failed to spot the missing plane in the next two days, infantry troops would comb the area for several days.

The A-6 plane was on a routine flight from Washington, D. C., and flashed a routine ETA (air force term for estimated time of arrival) at 11 o'clock, just 15 minutes before it was due to land.

The normal cruising range of the A-6 is about three and one-half hours, indicating that the plane's tanks had gasolene in them at the time of the crash.

The A-6 is a two-passenger training plane and was operated at the time by Major John C. Catlin, 27, of Arlington, Va., the pilot, and Col. James J. Heriot, 38, of Alexandria, Virginia.

Stewart Field authorities said the plane had entered the northwest leg of the field's radio range and was apparently making an approach to the field from the northwest. The plane was on the beam of the searchlight at the time it crashed. What happened after that is a mystery that today is clouded somewhere in the jungle-like foliage in the countryside not too far from the plane's home base.

Officials in charge of the searching parties are convinced that the plane encountered motor trouble only a few minutes after it flashed its ETA, and that the small plane crashed somewhere in the Ulster-Sullivan-Orange county apex. The Hudson river has been thoroughly searched.

Meanwhile local, county and state police officials joined in the search tracking down rumors and reports that have been pouring in since the plane was first reported missing.

With the hunt centered chiefly in the Ulster county mountain area, he state troopers have concentrated all their energies on that assignment.

The sheriff's office assisting in turning down a couple of reports that were received shortly after the disappearance of the plane.

Sheriff George Smith said that several tips had been phoned into his office and that each was receiving the careful scrutiny of searching parties.

The first came at 10:05 p. m. Thursday, 55 minutes before the A-6 called Stewart Field, when Mrs. Roy Monroe, of Port Ewen, reported that a plane in the vicinity of Port Ewen was jamming the radio lanes with frantic code messages. The plane appeared to be in great distress, Mrs. Monroe told the sheriff, and its code interfered with radio reception for more than an hour.

Authorities said this could not have been the missing plane, since the code charted between Bolling Field, Washington, and Stewart had the trainer on the beam all the way until 11 p. m.

Reflection Is Reported

A second call from Fred Simpson, of Accord, who reported that a friend, Martin Hamilton, of Sundown had seen the reflection of a bright object on Sugar Loaf Mountain near Lackawack. Mr. Hamilton, a lifelong resident of the area said he had never before seen such a reflection and thought it might be the missing plane.

State troopers from all barracks in the area are converging on Sugar Loaf Mountain for a ground search today.

Mrs. George Brown Jr., of Accord, reported that while picking berries in the hills near Accord on Friday she was startled by a loud crash emanating from near the mountain top.

"It sounded like somebody was dumping a lot of tin cans," she said to the sheriff's office.

Searching planes put on a brilliant aerial show for Ulster coun-

Heirens Is Called To Be Arraigned On 29 Indictments

The Tribune said, he wrote the ransom note, returned to the girl's home, and tossed it in her bedroom window.

(The Tribune story also said Heirens shot and killed Miss Brown when she emerged from her bathroom the night of December 10 to find him ransacking her apartment. The story added that the shot didn't kill Miss Brown and that Heirens finished the job with a bread knife he found in her kitchen.

(The Tribune also said that Heirens fatally stabbed Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43, a widow, when she surprised him in the act of stealing her purse from her apartment on June 3, 1945.)

Statement Is Denied

Sain's reported conversation with Heirens came after State's Attorney William J. Tuohy and counsel for the youth had emphatically denied that he had made a statement in connection with the kidnapping and slaying of six-year-old Suzanne last January 7. During the day the state's attorney and Heirens' attorneys, John and Mal Coghlan, had denied reports that important developments in the Degnan case were expected.

The reports followed a conference Sunday between Tuohy, some of his assistants and the Coghlan brothers.

John Coghlan said yesterday that the young student had told him that he had not been removed from his jail cell and that he had made no statements to anyone, either orally or written.

Tuohy has said that Heirens' finger and palm prints match those on the $20,000 ransom note found in the Degnan home and he also has said his finger prints match those found in the apartment where Miss Brown, 33, was shot and stabbed to death last December 10. Heirens has steadfastly denied any connection with either crime.

The state's attorney's office has announced it was ready to begin trial of Heirens on the burglary and assault charges, but his attorneys said they would ask for a continuance.

Heirens was seized by police last June 26 after he had been caught prowling in a north side apartment. Police reported finding loot in his dormitory room at the university which they said linked him with 24 burglaries. He has been held in jail in default of $280,000 bond since his arraignment in felony court two weeks ago.

British Soldier Sentenced to Die For Slaying Waaf

LONDON, July 16 (AP)—Walter Clayton, a British soldier, was sentenced to death today for the murder of a 23-year-old former Waaf.

Authorities announced another convicted slayer, Thomas Hendren, a ship's baker, would be hanged at Liverpool tomorrow for the death of Mrs. Ella Staunton, Liverpool manicurist.

The ex-Waaf, Miss Joyce Jaques, was strangled by a silk scarf. Mrs. Staunton was stabbed and strangled with an electric light cord.

At Edinburgh police today found the body of Agnes Campbell, ninth feminine victim within little more than a month of Britain's worst murder wave of the century. A former soldier, 35-year-old John Rutherford, was arrested and charged with murder.

10,000 Delegates Convene

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—Approximately 10,000 delegates from every state in the union and from 17 foreign countries convened today at the opening of the five-day annual convention of Lions International. Dr. Ramiro Collazo of Havana, Cuba, International president, keynoted the proceedings with stress on the theme of world peace through the United Nations.

A two-hour parade, featuring floats and bands arranged by various Lions Clubs, features tonight's activities.

ty residents Sunday and a few planes were out this morning. The number of aircraft was reported as high as 50, but Stewart Field said that no more than 15 were pressed into service.

Siam Asks U.N. Aid in Dispute

Indo-China Quarrel With France Over 20,000 Square Miles

New York, July 16 (AP)—The Kingdom of Siam has asked the United Nations Security Council to step into its complicated frontier dispute with France over parts of Indo-China which were seized by the Siamese with Japanese support and Vichy French collaboration months before Pearl Harbor.

The territories involved constitute some 20,000 square miles shown on pre-war maps as parts of Cambodia and Laos, bordering the Mekong river in Indo-China.

The Siamese contend, however, that the disputed areas are historically their own and that they are only part of the territory they were forced to cede to French empire-builders in 1907.

Siam's request has been circulated among the council delegations and will be taken up at their next meeting, which must be held not later than July 24.

The Siamese legation in Washington filed the mediation request yesterday under a charter article providing that a non-member of the U. N. may submit a dispute to the Security Council if it agrees in advance to abide by the council's terms for settlement.

The United States, Great Britain and China have announced their support of a full hearing in the council and those three and India have joined as sponsors of Siam's pending application for U. N. membership.

Delegation to Arrive

The Siamese said a delegation from Bangkok would arrive in New York shortly to support their charges that French forces from Indo-China recently had violated the Mekong river frontier, seized Siamese Nationals, fired "wanton fusillades" into Siamese territory and engaged in plunder and looting. Those charges were transmitted by Siam to the U. N. on two occasions in May.

Yesterday's communication said continued frontier troubles "threaten the preservation of peace" between France and Siam.

Siam and Indo-China fought an undeclared border war along the Mekong in 1940-41. Indo-China, under remote control of Vichy France, had capitulated to undeclared Japanese aggression southward, which was ostensibly undertaken to outflank China, and Siam was let into the short-lived Japanese co-prosperity sphere.

Japan "mediated" the border war between Siam and Indo-China in a treaty which was solemnized at Tokyo in March, 1941, and gave Siam sovereignty over the disputed parts of Cambodia and Laos.

After Pearl Harbor, Indo-China remained the base of all Japanese operations in the "southern regions" and Siam declared war on Japan's enemies. Britain declared war on Siam but the United States never did, choosing instead to collaborate with Siamese elements who helped the O.S.S. to drop a fifth column into Siam which brought back intelligence from as far as the heart of Tokyo itself.

Britain made peace with Siam several months ago.

The French colonial government which emerged at Saigon after the war met with Siamese emissaries several times but reached no frontier agreement and said it regarded a "technical state of war" still exists between France and Siam.

Among some primitive peoples, it was the custom to bury sick people to cure them.

Dryness Threatens New England Crops

Boston, July 16 (AP)—A dry spell threatened New England's vegetable crop today with the Weather Bureau seeing little hope of any immediate relief to farmers.

Showers late Thursday or Friday were forecast, but doubt was expressed that they would have much beneficial effect on sun-baked gardens.

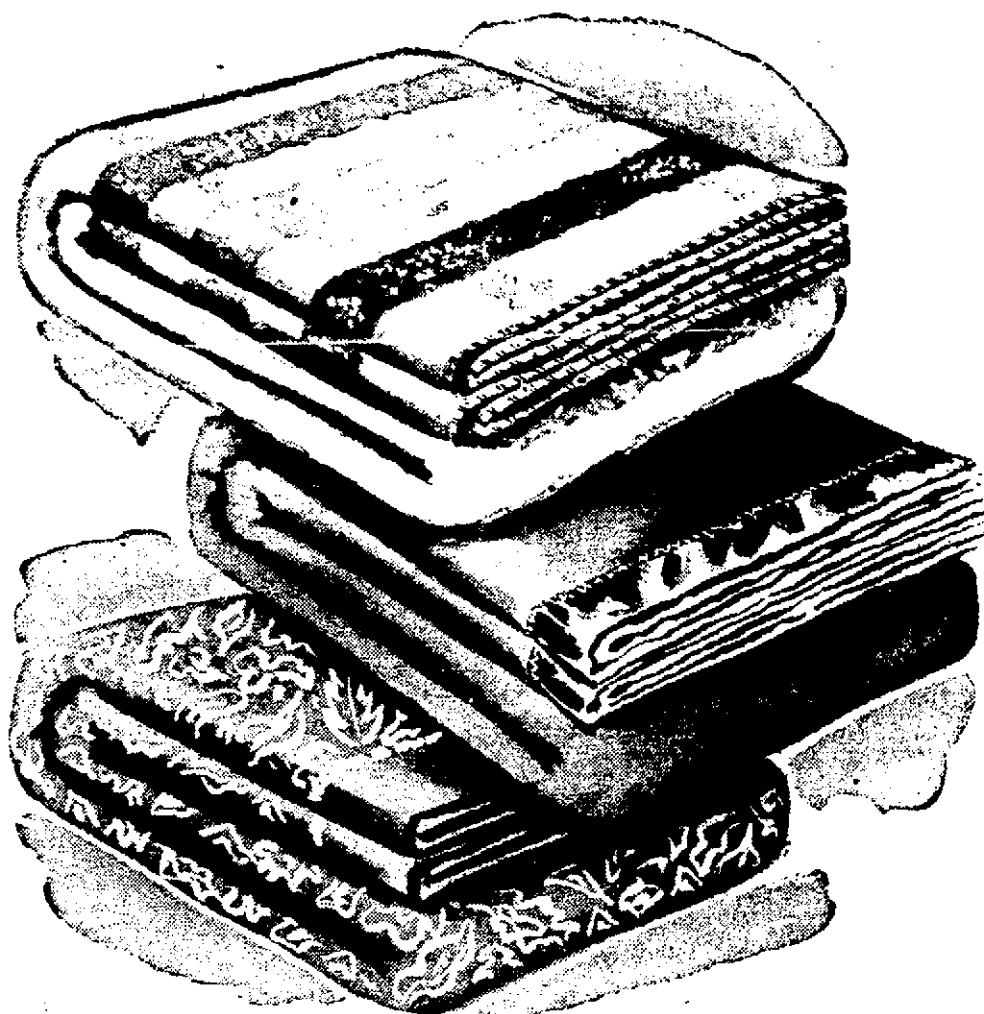

Less than a half inch of rain has fallen in the Boston area in 25 days. Areas farther north have fared a little better.

American discussions will open shortly in Berlin in an effort to establish closer economic relations between the British and American zones of occupation in Germany, the Foreign Office announced today.

A British Army lieutenant looked with satisfaction at a recent issue of the official London Gazette. He had gone through the war as a lieutenant and now his promotion to captain was officially announced. Furthermore, the appointment was retroactive to April 1, 1941—a nice concession on the part of the War Office. Then he looked more closely. The date was April 1, 1941.

The lieutenant promptly wrote to the paymaster applying for allowance for his new rank, and active to 1941, only to receive this disheartening reply:

"Your application... has been found in order under King's Regulations and your account accordingly has been credited with the sum of 39,999 pounds. Your letter proves conclusively that you are the sole officer surviving the Battle of Hastings, where 20,000 horses of an estimated value of two pounds each were lost by negligence. Under King's Regulations the responsibility for payment of 40,000 pounds therefore falls upon you. I have accordingly adjusted your account to the extent of a net debit of one pound."

Hotels to be Afloat

Floating hotels may solve the critical housing shortage of Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Finland, and enable them to handle the flow of postwar visitors expected, Stockholm reports. Architect Gosta Callmander has a plan to fabricate such hotels in five sections and float them on pontoons moored near restaurants to which they might be connected by a gangplank. They could be built in four months at a cost of $350,000 each. If $2.25 a day—a modest figure by Swedish standards—were charged for each room, building costs would be recovered in five years.

Gellman Says He 'Accepted' Garsson as 'Super Salesman'

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Munitions maker Allen B. Gellman told the Senate War Investigating Committee today that he had accepted Henry Garsson, his wartime associate, as a "super salesman" because "the proof of the pudding was in the eating of it."

Gellman testified that Garsson had backed up his claim of ability to obtain government munitions contracts by getting a big advance contract and by showing him a service expressing hope that he (Garsson) would "share" in the future business.

He denied, however, that Garsson had ever told him that he had "special influence" in Washington. Testimony has been introduced to show that Garsson obtained help from Rep. May (D-Ky.) on problems of an Illinois munitions combine.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) pressed Gellman closely on his wartime earnings and the net worth of his holdings and those of Joseph T. Weiss. He told the committee that they were worth a half million dollars worth before the war began.

Gellman, however, said he had "no idea" of their value now, contending that such a determination could be made only after the government completes renegotiation to recoup excessive profits.

He declared that the government would get back "every cent" it has coming with interest in which he and J. T. Weiss are associated.

Gellman testified he had believed Garsson was the head of a New York corporation at the time of their initial association, with a factory in Brooklyn.

Testimony has been introduced previously to show that army officers, at Garsson's invitation, inspected a plant there in late 1941 in which Garsson had no interest, as a preliminary to giving him his first war order.

Chairman Mead (D-NY) said that the army officers "might just as well have been taken out to see Brooklyn Bridge and have been told that they could buy it."

The witness testified yesterday that "appearances" misled him into association with Henry and Murray Garsson, brothers.

Gellman, describing himself as "deeply humiliated" by earlier testimony dealing with the background of the two brothers, told the Senate War Investigating Committee yesterday he had "cut loose" from the Garssons so he could "fight my own battle."

The committee is inquiring into what Chairman Mead (D-NY) has branded as "war profiteering" by a "paper empire."

B. C. I. Investigates $16,000 Theft at Lama Country Club

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, State Police barracks, Wurtsboro, is investigating the theft of $16,000 worth of jewelry and money from the safe of the Lama Country Club, Nanapanoch, reported on July 7.

When the State Police were called on the case, they were told that a valuable wrist watch was among the valuables missing; approximately $700 in cash belonging to guests and the rest in money belonging to the hotel.

The money deposited by guests for security in the safe was in envelopes, and the exact amount was unknown.

Although the police questioned guests and employees of the country club, they have no definite clues. Because the safe was opened by using the combination, the B.C.I. is suspicious of an "inside job" a trooper said.

Sergeant L. Baker of the Wurtsboro bureau today said that the investigation is being continued.

Child Leaves Hospital

Carolyn Eisele, 6, who narrowly escaped drowning in Lake Katrine Monday, was released from the Kingston Hospital last night, after receiving treatment. Her father, George Eisele, pulled her from the lake into which she had fallen, and artificial respiration applied by State Police at Lake Katrine barracks, prior to the arrival of Kingston firemen and a crew from the Central Hudson Corp., relieved her condition.

The bill includes funds for continued operation of the atomic bomb project and for military relief and government in occupied countries.

U. N. Commission Okays Committee Proposal
New York, July 16 (AP)—The United Nations Headquarters Commission yesterday approved a committee recommendation for consideration of an unselected area of 2,240 acres, or 3.5 square miles, to be occupied by the official buildings of the proposed "world capital."

It said the required building site might be reduced to two square miles if it has "a natural or publicly-owned protective belt of assured permanence" which would ensure a total area of 3.5 square miles.

The chairman, Sir Angus Fletcher, said the commission is continuing examination of localities and potentially suitable sites ranging from two to 40 square miles for the headquarters set-up.

U. N. Commission Okays Committee Proposal

The report will be submitted to the general assembly in September. The areas under examination are in the New York-Connecticut border counties of Westchester and Fairfield.

"I feel I was misled by appearances," Gellman said. "I don't say I was misled. Everything looked so on the up and up. I saw his college degrees with my own eyes. I saw his engineering office and his staff."

Gellman added he had been "impressed" with the belief that Murray Garsson was a former assistant secretary of labor. "I didn't dream," he said, "that a man could be appointed to high office with the kind of background that was brought out."

Was Dismissed Agent
F.B.I. reports read into the committee's record have identified Henry Garsson as a dismissed internal revenue agent and Murray Garsson as a one-time associate of Dutch Schultz and Owney Madden, as well as a former investigator for the Labor Department in 1931 and 1932.

Gellman declared that regardless of any other factors he considered Henry Garsson a man of great ability and willingness to work, adding that this proved a definite contribution to the war effort.

"I didn't know that there was a past, if there is one," Gellman told the committee. "All I know is what I read in the papers. If that is true, it is something I didn't know."

The witness added that he never heard of Benjamin F. Fields until the latter's name was brought into the committee hearing. Senator Mitchell (D-Wash.) has said Fields coupled a $5,000 campaign contribution offer with a request that the senator persuade his colleagues to drop the investigation. Fields denied offering any money.

Gellman said Wayne Johnson, New York attorney, originally had been retained to represent the various companies and officials as a group in connection with the inquiry. But when he learned of the testimony concerning Fields, Gellman said, he became "determined to cut loose."

He added his only purpose was to disassociate himself from the Garsson interests and that he meant "no reflection on Johnson for whom he expressed 'very high respect.'"

Senate Considers Proposal To Ban U.N.R.R.A. Assistance

Washington, July 16 (AP)—The Senate considered today a proposal to ban U.N.R.R.A. aid to countries which censor American newsmen's stories on relief operations as it worked to clear its calendar in anticipation of a month-end adjournment of Congress.

The no-censorship provision, a revised version of a proposal already voted by the House, came up in a $2,700,000,000 money bill carrying $465,000,000 for U.N.R.R.A. and $56,000,000 to tide over the payless O.P.A.

As approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee, the bill provides that no American funds for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency shall go to countries which censor dispatches about U.N.R.R.A. The committee altered the House version so that the new draft does not challenge the right of such countries as Russia to maintain news censorship, but requires that U.N.R.R.A. news be cleared without deletions or other changes.

William L. Clayton, assistant secretary of state, told the committee that the House version would be sure to make Russia "mad."

When the money bill is out of the way, Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) told reporters he wants to get quick action on several more important bills and go home. Besides the Senate measure to revive price control, he mentioned three proposals now pending in the House which have received favorable votes. These include domestic atomic control, congressional reorganization and minimum wage legislation.

He said the Senate ought to act on a House bill to provide terminal pay for G.I.'s, a federal aid to education measure and the Tidelands Bill on which Senator McCarran (D., Nev.) has been pressing for action.

Barkley opposes this measure, which would give title to ocean shelf areas to the states, but told the Nevada senator he would not seek to block its consideration.

Senator Mead (D., N. Y.) said he and others are determined to press for action in this session on a bill to outlaw the payment of state poll taxes as a prerequisite in federal elections. Southerners have a filibuster ready for this one, if it comes up.

Will Use Circus Money for Truck And a Firehouse

Ulster Hose Hopes Large Turnout Will Attend Bradley & Benson Show July 18

Its share of the proceeds from the Bradley and Benson Circus, scheduled to play on Pan Am Field, Thursday, will be used by Ulster Hose Company, No. 5, towards the purchase of a new firehouse and equipment.

The company, who hope that the circus will "pick 'em in" when it presents an afternoon and evening performance on the Albany avenue extension grounds.

The fire company, organized on March 9, 1944, has been rendering service in its district with a second hand truck and civilian defense pumper. At present, the engine-house is in the town of Ulster garage.

Voters of the town will decide on July 30 whether the commissioners should contract for a new truck and firehouse.

At present there is pending before the town board a petition to extend the fire district to the two-mile limit towards Lake Katrine. This is a suggestion from the people residing in that area.

Bert Chambers, one of the fire commissioners, has offered a lot, near the town garage for the erection of the proposed new firehouse.

Officers of the fire company are: Joseph McNierney, president; Percy Bush, vice president; John Osterhoudt, chief. These men, and other members of the organization are working diligently on promoting the circus and hope their efforts will be rewarded by large turnouts at both afternoon and evening shows.

America Is Nation Of Contrasts, Says Soviet Journalist

By REMBERT JAMES
Moscow, July 16 (AP)—Ilya Ehrenburg, Soviet journalist who has just returned from a tour of the United States, described America in an article in Izvestia today as a nation of strange contrasts.

"New York's skyscrapers justify their geography," Ehrenburg said. "This is an enormous city built on a little island. But in the smallest provincial town one may find a few small skyscrapers built around a few thousand one-story buildings. Such are the contrasts of America."

Ehrenburg also was impressed by the "provincialism" of large portions of America. He said he came across one group of provincial "dummies" who were convinced that with the help of Esperanto they could make the atomic bomb harmless.

Turning to the race question, Ehrenburg declared that in all sections of the country he found "organizations for defending the rights of negroes," but that he had encountered in Mississippi a plantation owner who told him that "blackskinned people in general are not human beings."

"Neither the radio nor the ventilating system had an effect on the mind of this slave owner," Ehrenburg said.

Ehrenburg declared that there was nothing more in contrast to the British character than the average American.

"Englishmen," he said, "are more courteous, phlegmatic, love to live their lives at home, order their suits from good cloth and wear them until death, or at least until the next elections. But the Americans love everything new. They seldom become used to one apartment until they begin hunting for a new one, which they want to furnish with everything new, throwing away all old furnishings."

Discussing American literature Ehrenburg said: "I would be difficult to find today in western Europe writers equal to Hemingway, Faulkner, Steinbeck or Caldwell, and I could add a few other names."

O.P.A. Workers Face Half-Pay Week as Price Battle Goes On

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Nearly 50 per cent of O.P.A.'s 34,000 workers face the prospect of half-pay this week. And there's a possibility the rest may get none when next week's pay day rolls around. This may precipitate a crisis on whether the agency can hold its staff together while legislation to revive price controls is pending.

Thus far Congress has taken no final action on O.P.A.'s appropriation for the fiscal year which began July 1. It may by the week's end, but that won't avert delays in pay checks.

Scheduled to receive checks tomorrow and the rest of this week are about 15,000 O.P.A. field workers. They are assured of at least half of what they have coming because part of the pay period covers the last week of June.

But there is virtually no chance at all, according to O.P.A. budget officials, that they can be paid on time for the first week of July. "There is scarcely a possibility that Congress will act before the end of the week," said one official. "That means a delay of at least a few days on the second batch of checks."

A week from tomorrow, July 24, is the regular pay day for all other O.P.A. employees—about 3,400 in Washington and another 15,000 in the field. These already have been paid in full for work in June.

O.P.A. figures that unless the appropriation bill is through Congress by Friday, it will be impossible to pay these 18,400 workers on time. That means they would get no pay at all when it's due.

O.P.A. isn't the only agency facing pay difficulties. Jesse M. Donaldson, first assistant postmaster general, said last night some 450,000 postal workers will go without their checks due this week until Congress ends their silver-price disagreement that is snagging the $1,600,000,000 treasury-postoffice appropriation bill.

The next Treasury Department payroll does not fall due until July 24.

12 Persons Are Hurt In Anglo Train Wreck

London, July 16 (AP)—Twelve persons were hospitalized today with injuries suffered when an express train speeding from London to Aberdeen jumped the tracks last night near the London suburb of Hatfield and piled up in a tangled mass of wreckage.

Passengers expressed amazement that many were not killed in the crash, which scattered luggage and clothing over a 200-yard area. All of the 13 coaches left the rails and three were badly damaged.

The accident occurred as the train sped toward a curve. The engine ploughed on ahead of the train for about 150 yards before coming to rest in an upright position with all its wheels off.

Typhoon Hits Philippines
Manila, July 16 (AP)—A typhoon, preceded by torrential rain and landslides, roared across the northern tip of the Philippines today. The tropical disturbance was felt as far south as Manila.

M. G. Employees Resent Ship Accommodations
Berlin, July 16 (AP)—Several civilian military government employees, including a former brigadier general, have indicated their intention of complaining to the War Department against a "caste system" which they said governed the accommodations given their families on dependents' ships operated by the army.

The issue came to a head when a group of civilian dependents arriving aboard the S. S. President Tyler complained that during the voyage the wives of army officers got top deck accommodations and civilians were placed below in overcrowded and poorly-arranged quarters.

Mrs. Henry Parkman of Boston, Mass., whose husband, recently a brigadier general, is now head of the M.G. civil administrative section, said she and her four children had been put in an overcrowded compartment on "C" deck along with the dependents of enlisted personnel, while officers' wives had the promenade above. Mrs. Parkman said her husband planned to protest to the War Department.

Noted Lawyer Dies In New York; Was Nassau Official

New York, July 16 (AP)—Elvin N. Edwards, 65, former district attorney of Nassau county who investigated such famous cases as the Starr Faithfull case and the Collings yacht murder during nine years in office, died today.

Although both cases still are listed as unsolved, their mystery has fascinated crime experts since they occurred in 1931.

The body of Starr Faithfull, beautiful 23-year-old girl, was washed up on the shore at Long Island south shore resort, June 8, 1931. The Nassau county grand jury returned an open verdict after investigation of the death moved to such widely separated scenes as Boston and London.

The Collings case broke the morning of September 10, 1931, when Mrs. Benjamin P. Collings of Stamford, Conn., was found marooned on boat in Oyster Bay harbor on Long Island's north shore. A few hours earlier her five-year-old daughter, Barbara, had been found on the Collings yacht, Penguin, which was drifting in Long Island Sound.

Told of Boarding
Mrs. Collings told of two men boarding the Penguin the night before offering her husband $100 to take a wounded friend to Connecticut. She said when he refused the men struck him, threw him in the water, took her off the yacht, mistreated her and left her on the boat in which she was found.

A week later Collings trusted body washed ashore on the Marshall Field estate.

One of Nassau's county's most prominent residents, Edwards, several years ago received the Nassau Daily Review Star's gold medal as the county's most outstanding citizen. He was president of the Long Island Association, chairman of the Nassau County U.S.O. and annually headed the county's Boy Scout fund drive.

He became district attorney in 1926 after serving as police justice of the village of Freeport and as assistant district attorney. He retired to private law practice in 1935.

Police denied that there was such a hunger strike.

Ten of them were condemned to death along with Mihailovic, the Chetnik leader who rallied Yugoslavians against the Germans in the early days of the war in the Balkans and later was accused of joining the Germans in fighting the Partisans of Premier Marshal Tito.

Japanese Women Get Surplus Navy Candy, Nuts, Flour

AP Newsfeatures
Yokosuka—The U. S. Navy and the Shinsei women's society of Yokosuka are combining forces to battle food shortages. The Navy is supplying surplus and surveyed foods and the women are rationing it to the townspeople.

Candy, nuts, flour and edible waste foods which the Navy rejected for its own use are being trucked by the Navy to stores already acquired by the women.

The president of the Shinsei society early last month approached Navy base commander Capt. B. W. Decker of Washington, D. C., with a proposal for education in democracy of the society's 12,000 women members. Decker agreed to their plan and sent six truck loads of rejected Navy food which the women distributed satisfactorily.

The cooperation has one noticeable effect—membership in the Shinsei society has leaped to 40,000.

Our cupboards getting bare, too!

We wonder if there haven't been times lately when there were conversations in your home something like this:
HUSBAND... "What luck did you have getting butter today, Mary?"
WIFE... "No luck at all, John. But he said he expected a little Thursday and would save me some. Going to let me have some sugar, too."
HUSBAND... "Well, at least that's something. But I know how it is. I've been six months trying to get some steel brackets."
Sounds familiar, doesn't it? Every family knows there are dozens of things it needs and would like to get right away, but under present disturbed conditions they are just not to be had.
Well, we're facing exactly the same situation in the telephone business. Only the names may be different. Our "butter" may be copper, or rubber, or lumber. Our "sugar" may be textiles, or lead, or steel.

To keep our telephone household going, and to expand our plant and facilities to meet the great demand for telephone service, we need large supplies of many, many basic materials.

In some cases they are just not to be had immediately. In others we can get only a limited quantity. In fact, a great many of the materials vital to telephone production are in short supply today for one reason or another.

Even so, in spite of the fact that our construction program is being slowed down by conditions beyond our control, you can depend on this:

We're moving just as fast as we can to improve our service and take care of our waiting applicants.

Morgans Clip Clintons Behind Swarthout's Two-Hitter, 8 to 1

Winners Lambast Sleight and Misove For Eleven Bingles

Losers Tally Uncarned Run in Fifth Inning; Capitals Meet Perrys Tonight at Stadium

The history of the Gov. Clintons in the Mid-Hudson League failed again last night to charm City Baseball League opponents as Manager Billy Ball's Morgan Restaurant club pounded out an 8 to 1 victory over the market-men. The victory was achieved mainly on the stellar pitching of Lefty Bud Swarthout who numbed the Clintons with a nifty two-hitter.

Tonight's Contest
Old Capital Motors will attempt to stay in the running for a playoff berth in the city loop tonight by meeting Perrys. The game is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock at the municipal stadium. The Capitals have won three out of four so far.

Earl Sleight started for the Clintons but gave way to Paul Misove in the sixth. Sleight was nicked for nine of the 11 base hits. It was his first mound assignment since 1941.

Morgans who can be definitely regarded as a threat to league honors by all concerned, didn't waste much time Monday night before taking the lead which they never relinquished. They hopped on Earl "Red" Sleight for three bingles in the opening frame and took a 2-0 lead. Bill Tierney opened the fireworks on the redhead with a single and then rapped all the way home when Jess Shultis parked a double down the left field foul line. After Tom Heneberry rifled another single, George Brinkman skied to deep center, driving in Shultis with the second marker.

The winners added another run in the fourth when Weishaup and McConnell rapped out singles. On the latter's drive, Mac Tiano permitted the ball to go through him and Weishaup dashed all the way around to score.

Sleight received his final lumps in the fifth after Bill Tierney scampared to third when Shultis whacked a single and while Heneberry was swinging, Shultis stole second. With the stage set for two runs, Heneberry cracked a drive to center for a single which scored both Tierney and Shultis. The final run of the frame came across when Heneberry romped in when Art Barnes erred on Brinkman's grounder.

Swarthout Loses Shutout
The Clinton deprived Swarthout of a shutout in the fifth when the left-hander's defense cracked. Charlie Neff reached on Weishaup's error and then stole second. A Barnes reached safely on Neff's error as Neff lumbered over the payoff dirt with the only run of the ball game off Swarthout.

Bill Tierney Triples
A long clip by Bill Tierney which went for a triple highlighted Morgans final scoring spurge in the sixth. McConnell walked and went to second on Swarthout's bunt. Tierney then unloaded his extra-base clout which drove in McConnell. Tierney then dashed homeward when Shultis rapped out a single.

The hitting gem of the game was turned in by Tommy "Gawk" Maines, centerfielder for the Clintons. Tom uncorked one of the cruelest throws ever seen at the stadium when he fired a perfect strike to third to catch Shultis who had been straggling about 10 feet off the base. It was Maines' ninth assist from the outfield this year.

Swarthout pitched excellent ball all the way while throwing his two-hitter at the Clintons. The tall left-hander struck out four and issued no walks.

ALBANY SENATOR SECOND SACKER

One of the veteran players of the Albany Senators who will perform at Municipal stadium next Saturday night, July 20, is Eddie Leip, second baseman, who is Manager Jimmy Collins' right-hand man. Leip is back with the Eastern League club this year following a long tour in the army which found him gaining a battlefield commission for valor during Allied landings in Italy. Leip broke into organized baseball with Trenton in 1936 and last played with Albany in 1941 while the Senators were in the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League. During the 1941 campaign he led the Senators in hitting. Leip is 31 years old, stands five feet, nine inches and weighs 160. He also bats right-handed. He entered the army in 1942 after returning to the Pirates during the fall of 1941. Leip and all of the other regular Albany players will be with the club when it plays the Kingston Recreations in an arclight exhibition tilt Saturday night.

In the Rough

By Charlie Tiano

To the inveterate golf bug, Freddie Corcoran is a pretty big name. To the average man in the street it might sound like just another Irishman. But to Mr. Corcoran rightfully belong all the Oscars for the phenomenal growth of golf as a spectator sport during the past 10 years.

In case you haven't heard about Corcoran, you need not be alarmed about your I. Q. Chances are you have been reasonably happy without that knowledge. Corcoran happens to be tournament chairman of the Professional Golfers Association of America—and a brilliant promoter.

A few years back when golf catered to a more or less restricted clientele and club championships and national tournaments were shrouded in complete secrecy, Mr. Corcoran got an idea. He reasoned that there was nothing wrong with golf as a spectator sport that a bit of imagination and promotion couldn't cure. He set out to make golf a spectator sport a horrible thought undoubtedly to the cock-tail-sipping socialites—but a terrific boon to the game.

Did Corcoran succeed? Well, attendance at golf events this season is unprecedented and the pros of the golden circuit are frantic trying to keep abreast of the hundreds of lucrative tournaments popping up all over the landscape. The $5000 meet has been superseded by the $10,000 competition. There is a heap of gold on those greens—and a host of paying customers ringed around them when a Nelson or Hogan casually plunks one near the cup from 150 yards.

Corcoran is one of the topnotch sports promoters of the day and golf is a more popular sport because of him.

HERZOG'S ACE FIRST TO MAKE FRONT PAGE
Matt Herzog's hole-in-one fired on the 227-yard No. 2 hole at Twaalfskill on May 8 was unique in two respects. It was the longest of the 16 aces recorded in local golf history. It was the first to crash the front pages.

The fact that Mr. Herzog uncorked a 227-yarder was not as important in some circles as the front page story. It developed that the hardware magnate had the good fortune to have his ace reported after the sports page had been closed. Where else could the story go but on the front page? It wasn't that Mr. Herzog's ace was bigger news than Ray LeFevre's, let's say.

It just happened that Mr. Herzog's press agent was a greater opportunist, wise in the ways of newspaper headlines, whereas LeFevre's agent adhered strictly to the deadline. And that, dear readers, is the story of why Herzog's ace made the front page, and LeFevre's didn't.

This is just a friendly tip. If you feel a hole-in-one coming on, fire it early in the morning. Or don't report it until the sports page is closed. It might get you on Page One.

RAMBLING THOUGHTS OF AN EXPERT DUFFER
When you start paring No. 3 consistently at Wiltyweck, then you know you have arrived. In the recent Rinker tournament, "Dubby" Raichle birdied the par 4 setup. Without mirrors. . . Fred.

Better Golf
By SAM SNEAD

Haythorne started for Stewart Field but gave way to Bill Conklin in the fourth. A Bennett, Patrice and Gordon took turns on the hill for Millbrook and permitted a total of 11 base knocks. The two armers hurlers were touched for 16 bingles.

Millbrook took a 3 to 1 lead in the first and made it 7-1 in the third. Another tally came across in the fourth but Stewart Field bounced back with four in both the fourth and fifth to make the score 9-8. Three in the sixth and single tallies in the seventh and ninth finished up the scoring for the winners. Millbrook shoved across what appeared to be the winning runs in the eighth when five tallies came across but Stewart Field's last marker in the ninth decided the battle.

On the strength of Sunday's victory Stewart Field has now won three and lost three while for Millbrook it was the club's sixth straight defeat.

Two Ex-Major Leaguers Face Recs Wednesday at Stadium

Tremark and Dickman Coming Here With Mt. Vernon Club For Night Tilt

Kingston's refurbished Recreation ground was found out Saturday night that it wasn't so awfully bad after all to score runs, will attempt to continue on the winning road Wednesday night when the crack Mt. Vernon Scarlets furnish the mid-week opposition at municipal stadium.

The Recs came from behind Saturday night to score one of their most impressive conquests of the year over the Kansas City Monarchs who had blanked the Bushwicks the night before by 3 to 0 at Dexter Park. The win snapped the club's two game losing streak and also ended the long string of runless frames which had reached the total of 23 before Billy Ostrom dashed in on Joe Job's pinch single.

Saturday's exciting victory has put the local semi-pro club in a good state of mind for the brace of top-flight games this week. Wednesday's encounter with the Mt. Vernon team is another stand-out engagement for local fandom while on Saturday fans will have another treat in store for them when Jimmy Collins and his Albany Senators play here. Both clubs are expected to draw large crowds to the uptown baseball park.

Mr. Vernon is rated one of the best semi-pro outfits of the New York area and have long been considered one of the most dashing clubs of its calibre. The Scarlets have played here before and gave the fans plenty to talk about.

Two Ex-Big Leaguers
Two former big league stars will be with Mt. Vernon tomorrow. One is Nick Tremark, former outfielder with the Brooklyn Dodgers and the other is Emerson Dickman, ace thrower who formerly pitched for the Boston Red Sox. Dickman is slated to oppose the Recs.

The rest of the Mt. Vernon lineup is no stranger to semi-pro ball. The infield will have Dan Gurian at first, Mickey De Angelus at second, Larry Hartman at third and Fred Backman at short. The outfield will be composed of Merle Campagna in left, Nick Tremark in center and Timmy Adams in right. Either Bill Skiff or Manager Bob Gordon will do the catching. In addition to Dickman the Scarlets will have Pete Seabackus, Bill Prendergast and Andy Corninett ready to take to the field line.

Wahling Slays
Joe Wahling's two straight hits Saturday against Ford Smith jumped his average over the .400 mark and the Rec first sacker is now clubbing at an enviable .407 clip. Joe has bashed out 22 hits in 54 visits to the platter and has scored eight runs. George Peaderon, with a single and a homer, advanced his batting mark up to .365 for the year. The third baseman has cracked out 19 bingles in 52 trips. The only other 300 clubber Joe Job who is currently winging at a .304 clip.

Two Are Slain In Parked Car In Pennsylvania

Norristown, Pa., July 16 (AP)—Helen Saylor Hanley, 22, and her ex-GI escort, John R. Hoffman, 25, were shot to death early today when they sat in a parked car less than 300 feet from the home of the girl's parents. The girl was killed outright. Hoffman died at 6:35 a. m. in a hospital.

Police Sergeant William Miller said Hoffman related a car pulled up in front and a man got out and started shooting at the girl and Hoffman was shot as he attempted to run for help.

Police Chief John Tomkins of Upper Merion said the girl had been estranged from her husband, Kenneth W. Hanley, 25, of Norristown, a discharged veteran who recently was a patient at Coatesville Hospital.

Army Frees 3 Russians in Berlin

identified the three by name, the statement said.

The Harrisons, at a press conference in the U. S. sector of Berlin, told how they had been arrested July 1 when they went 300 yards into the Russian district to visit a dog kennel. They said they had been questioned repeatedly during their captivity.

The Russians kept the couple apart for the first two days of their imprisonment—Harrison in a dungeon-like cellar; his wife in a bare room. After that, they were reunited and received "passable food," Mrs. Harrison said she had answered "I don't know" when asked questions such as what ship had brought her to Germany, and how many troops had been aboard.

No Official Reason
Meanwhile, although the Russians gave no official reason for the couple's prolonged imprisonment, U. S. Army officials intimated it had been in retaliation for the detention of two Russians by the Americans.

General Keating declined to answer a direct question as to whether the two were held on suspicion of being Soviet spies, but said that Americans did not hold nationals of another country unless they regarded them as espionage agents. Under international law, a country is entitled to hold such suspects, he added.

Russian sources said the two Red Army members had been arrested June 14. Indications were that the pair was regarded by the Russians as of considerable importance.

Meanwhile, American officials said they had no information on the whereabouts of Capt. Harold Cobin of Newark, N. J., and Lt. George Wyatt of Oklahoma City, who were last seen July 4 boarding a train for Oranienburg, in the Russian zone. The officials said, however, that the Russians had promised to investigate their disappearance.

"Nothing has been heard in even the remotest way about them," Keating said.

Intelligence officers said it was rumored that Cobin was gathering material for a book, and had made several previous trips to Oranienburg where the Russians are reported to have internment camps. The intelligence officers denied that the two were on an official mission.

Harrisons Bewildered

The Harrisons, of San Antonio, Texas, looked bewildered when they were brought into the Army-sponsored press conference. Harrison had a two-day growth of beard, his wife had been on the verge of a breakdown when she was released, seemed composed.

Harrison said they were arrested by two motorcycleists wearing civilian clothes but carrying pistols.

"The first two days of our detention we were separated," Harrison said. "I was kept in a cellar—more like a dungeon. My wife was kept in a bare room with only a bed, chair and table."

"Those first two days during which we were subjected to considerable questioning were the most difficult, mainly because we were worried about one another."

"We were not roughly treated. After the first two days, even the food was passable. The food they gave us the first 48 hours couldn't be eaten. I don't know what sort of stuff it was."

"When we were released, everything that had been taken was returned intact—including our jeep."

Mrs. Harrison, who came to Berlin May 15, said that at one point during her questioning by the Russians she began to weep and, "I guess I scared the whole darned bunch."

Auto Output Declines

Washington, July 16 (AP)—The Civilian Production Administration today reported a sharp decline in the production of passenger automobiles during June. Only 142,313 new cars rolled off assembly lines as compared with 152,948 in May, the agency said. Truck production also dropped to 58,339 in June, 15,911 fewer than in May. All manufacturers, C.P.A. said, still are faced with shortages of materials and parts as a result of strikes.

summoned from their jobs in 60 plants, and in other cities throughout Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan.

The Independent Citizens Committee in Rochester, N. Y., was sponsoring a buyers strike set for July 19, when representatives of labor, veterans and other local groups pledged themselves to buy nothing except bare necessities.

Drive Is Announced

In Utah, representatives of an estimated 50,000 organized women announced a drive to have their members sign pledges to boycott all goods over former ceiling prices, except in unusual instances.

Buyers strikes on the same terms also were called by the 3,000 members of the Utah Consumers Council, while state A.F.L. and C.I.O. officials asked their members to limit purchases to needed goods.

In Denver, the Colorado Anti-Inflation Council announced at an anti-inflation rally Monday night that it will call a buyers strike July 23. Nearly 1,000 people attended the meeting.

Some 10,000 C.I.O. unionists in Pittsburgh employed by the Westinghouse Electric Corp. met in an open air rally Monday night. They passed a resolution to congress asking for "an effective O.P.A. bill, or we'll demand another wage increase and strike if necessary to get it."

Gives Union Strategy

U.A.W. President Reuther has announced that the union's strategy would be to single out "certain inflationary priced commodities and strike against them," with union-wide demands for increased wages to be used as a last resort if "exorbitant living costs" fail to drop.

The New England Office of the American Veterans Committee, Inc., rallied the public for "a Boston Tea Party" tonight as a move in the design "to save the nation from inflation."

The regional office called a public meeting at the Old South Meeting House in Boston after which bales "representing inflated and black market goods" will be dumped into the ocean from India war. Participants will follow the same route taken by Patriots in 1773 at the famous Boston Tea Party.

That a "basic policy" of the party is "to get control, through the election of secret members to the directing committees, of as many types of functional organizations as possible, including trade unions, professional associations and broad non-party organizations such as youth movements and civil liberties unions."

The report dealt primarily with Canada and mentioned the other two countries only incidentally in instances where Soviet activities in the dominion had ramifications abroad. The chief type of such infiltration was Moscow's efforts to get scientific secrets shared by Canada, Britain and the United States.

The report would seem to indicate that, whatever the United States and Britain might do about the matter domestically, the United States and Canada would have to discuss it in the course of joint defense talks which are carried on regularly through the permanent joint board of defense.

The commissioners mentioned several times that post-war defenses of Canada were involved, and said that "it is obvious" that the Russians had planned "a large post-war expansion of the network of Canadians in the military espionage system."

A big part of Canada's effort to combat this treaty to "the safety and interests of the state" is to be a program of "publicity, education and full understanding," regarding the evidence laid before the commission, Prime Minister King told Parliament.

King said the report itself "is a very important instrument" to this end, an apparent reference to the detailed accounts of just how Canadians were taken into the network through Communists in the dominion and through agents direct from Moscow.

Search Is Made For Seven Marines Seized by Chinese

Peiping, July 16 (AP)—More than 1,000 men and seven aircraft pressed the search today for seven U. S. Marines kidnaped Saturday by a band of 80 Chinese.

Marine Corps Headquarters here said no trace had been found of the missing men, who were taken prisoner in a village near Chinwangtao. An eighth Marine escaped capture.

All Marines in that area of North China have been alerted, a Marine Corps officer said. Two companies of 600 Marines and a similar number of Chinese government soldiers have been detailed for the search.

Chinese papers said the kidnapers were Communists, but there was no confirmation. Numerous bandit gangs operate in the area.

Meantime, Chinese press dispatches said a force of 80,000 Communists was attacking strategic Tating in Shansi province, a weakly-defended city famed for its huge stone Buddhas.

A cease-fire team was reported enroute there.

The government-controlled Central News Agency said the Communists have halted their attacks on the Tientsin-Pukow rail line in Hopei province after more than a week of fighting, and that the Tsinan-Singtao line had been cleared of Reds.

Five thousand Communists were reported attacking government positions 14 miles north of Tsinan, capital of Shantung province.
